

SBWGA General Meeting January 4, 2022

The meeting was called to order by President Ann Stonecipher at 1:15pm in the Vistas Dining Room.

With no additions or corrections to the December minutes, the minutes were approved as posted on the web site.

Treasurer Patty Mawe gave the Treasurer's Report. With no additions or corrections, the treasurer's report was approved and will be posted to the web site.

Ann announced that the 2022 handbook should be going to the printer on Friday, January 7 and that it will be handed out on a Tuesday Play Day or at the February general meeting.

The web site password is changing on January 5. The new password was given out verbally by Ann and also stated in her January 1 email to all members. In addition to the treasurer's report and membership directory, the lunch sign-up form and score correction form will be password protected as we did receive one inappropriate form submission.

Ann announced the upcoming events for the month and acknowledged members who had a January birthday. She thanked the kitchen staff and servers for their efforts, especially with the long frost delay.

Carol Bidwell thanked Nancy Huffman and Dede Crowder for their years of service as sponsorship chairs. They were given "You Go Girl" tea towels as a thank you.

Audrey Costello gave out details of the upcoming member/guest tournament – the Quail Classic - to be held on April 10-12.

Membership Chair Deanna McCann introduced new members Donna Sehn, Thresa Holmes, and Laura Ingold. Olga Lawrence was not in attendance.

Tournament Chair Lisa Graff congratulated the Eclectic (ringer) lowest scorers for 2021: Deb Fenton had a 30 on Catalina, Helen Graham had a 29 on Tucson, and Sandra Murray had a 30 on SaddleBrooke. Prize money to other winners was passed out.

Connie Culley presented a Hole-in-One certificate to Bonnie Westra.

Ann presented the Most Improved Golfer Award to BJ Murray who improved her handicap index from 29.4 to 22.7 during 2021.

Michelle Tarango and Amanda Lairmore from the Pinal County Juvenile Court System presented information about the Court Appointed Special Advocate Program and the foundation which supports it, the chosen charity for 2022.

The meeting was adjourned about 2:30pm.

Respectfully submitted,

Ann Stonecipher
